CIGARETTES MANUFACTORY
BRITANNIA ANONYMOUS SOCIETY,
ADEN.

BY SPECIAL APPOINTMENT

TO HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS THE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT.

The Public are hereby informed that the BEST CIGARETTES can only be obtained from the Britannia Anonymous Society.

WHY? WHY? WHY?

1st.—Because the climate of Aden being dry, naturally preserves the elegant aroma of Tobacco and this is contrary to the climate of Cairo. Therefore Aden manufactured Cigarettes are superior to Cairo or Egyptian Cigarettes.

2nd.—Money being no consideration. The Society lavishes great care in selecting the finest Tobacco by paying the best prices and taking the smallest possible profit.

3rd.—This fine Tobacco is manufactured on hygenic principles and thorough cleanliness.

A trial order will convince the most fastidious Smoker of the Superiority of the Britannia Anonymous Society Cigarettes.

All Cigarettes are sent by post free to any part of the World.

THEY ARE THE CHEAPEST AND THE BEST.

FEW HINTS TO SMOKERS.

FOR the information of the Public, who are misled by blustering advertisements and induced to believe that the CIGARETTES made in Egypt are THE ONLY GENUINE, we beg to draw their attention to the following:—Egypt does not produce any Tobacco at all, and the Cigarettes manufactured there are of Turkish Tobacco, the same as our own Cigarettes. There is no difference, therefore, between the Cigarettes made in Egypt and those made in Aden, as both of them are made of the same Turkish Tobacco and by the same Cigarette Makers, with the only difference that purchasers of Cigarettes made in Egypt have to pay nearly double the prices of those made in Aden.

We, therefore, request all Cigarette Smokers to try a box of the Cigarettes made in Aden, and convince themselves of the above facts.

A PERSON OF 30 may secure Rs. 1,000 at Death by a yearly payment of Rs. 27-4 during life. This Premium would generally elsewhere secure Rs. 830 only instead of Rs. 1,000.

OR, if unwilling to burden himself with payments during his whole life, he may secure the same sum of Rs. 1,000 by twenty yearly payments of Rs. 33, being that free of Premiums before age 55; this premium being about the same as most Offices require during the whole term of life.

OR, if preferring to make provision for his old age or for his family in case of death, he may secure the same sum of Rs. 1,000 payable at age 55 or death by yearly payments

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY.

TRADE THERAPION MARK.

This successful and highly popular remedy, as employed in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Jobert de Lys, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed.

THERAPION No. 1 in a few days only removes all discharges from the urinary organs, effectually superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of stricture and other serious diseases. In dysentery, piles, irritation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the more trying complaints of this kind, it will be found astonishingly efficacious, affording prompt relief where other well trusted remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION No. 2 for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints—often mistaken for rheumatism—secondary symptoms, sore throat, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, &c., to the destruction of the sufferer's teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION No. 3 for nervous exhaustion, waste of vitality, harassing dreams, and all the distressing consequences arising from early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated.

THERAPION 4/6 per package, may be procured at 2/9 and the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the World. In ordering, the purchaser should state which of the three numbers he requires, and observe above Registered Trade Mark, which is a fac-simile of the word "THERAPION" as it appears on the Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground), affixed to every genuine package by order of Her Majesty's Hon Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

BOMBAY, FRIDAY, MARCH 14.

WE have again a generally dull week to report in most branches of trade in Bombay. Our staple export, Cotton, has remained quiet since last mail left. In Bengals there has been a slight increase in price, while Oomras has shown a little decline. These are the two descriptions in which large speculative contracts were made several months previous to the arrival in Bombay of the new crops, for delivery from 5th to 25th March, and the bulk of the business now reported is a settlement of these contracts. During the current season these speculative transactions have been on a small scale, compared with previous years, but still a fairly large amount of business has been put through, and the largest Sutta settlement of the year commences to-morrow. The very large stocks of cotton at Colaba and tight money will probably deter the bulls from taking delivery of their purchases, especially in face of the limited inquiry which at present exists from shippers and local consumers. During the week under review the daily sales reported in the market have been small, and fresh orders from Europe and Japan have been few and far between, and consist chiefly of Bengals and stapled Oomras. It is possible that after the settlement is completed and the speculative element is eliminated, prices may come down to a more workable level, and stocks may then move on a larger scale. But at present purchases are generally confined to the ready requirements of both shippers and local mills, and we hear of practically no enquiry for any forward deliveries with the exception of a few orders for saw-ginned Dharwar for Japan. The advices from Liverpool and New York have been quieter during the past week, but prices remain almost unchanged since last mail left, and fluctuations during the interval have been small.

The Seeds Markets have all been quiet, following advices from the consuming markets. The business locally has been moderate. Prices have remained fairly stationary, but we hear that offers from Europe are scarcely practicable at current rates. Receipts of the new crops are not on a free scale, and dealers are unwilling to reduce their quotations to any extent, considering the large forward contracts they have already entered into, and the prospects of the crops in the growing districts. A certain amount of transactions are reported daily chiefly in Linseed and Rapeseed, but nothing of any importance has transpired during the week.

The Freight Market has been dull throughout the week and business reported has been on a limited scale for the present season of the year. The s.s. "Milwaukee," was filled up at 13s. and the s.s. "Idar," at 12s. for Antwerp. For forward shipment bookings are reported at 13s. 6d. Antwerp-April-May, and 13s. 9d. other picked ports, and the Hansa Line is said to be full up to end of April's June shipment. For March loading 14s 3d. has been paid for Liverpool and Hull and 14s. for Havre and Dunkirk. The charters reported during the week are the s. s. "Dunottar" April loading, at 14s. one p. p. 14-6 two p. p. and Hamburg 6d. extra, and the s.s. "Mars" March loading at 14s. one port only. The s. s. "Goodwin" has been fixed Rangoon to Bombay at Rs. 6-8 per ton, April loading. The s. s. "Knight Ernest" is reported to have booked a line at 13s. Antwerp, April.

How advices state that for March-April loading from here the s. s. "Castanos" has been chartered to load a full cargo of Manganese Ore at 18s. to Fleetwood and the s.s. "Tabaristan" for p. p. at 14s. and another steamer for Antwerp with part cargo of ore at 15s. 6d. April.

In Piece Goods there is no change to report in our local market this week. Prices of all descriptions remain unaltered, and no sales of any importance have been made either by dealers or firms, and no indent business has been reported. It is expected that some deliveries may take place next week if there is any easier feeling in the Money Market. In local yarns a moderate amount of business has been put through, which would have been very much larger if the China exchange had not given way under the influence of the decline in Silver. Dealers are now content to await further developments before entering into larger engagements, and the Mills are not pressing sales, having a fair amount of contracts in hand. The metal market remains steady. Copper and Yellow metal are steady for ready lots with little doing for forward delivery. 100 bundles of Copper at £68 and 100 bundles of yellow metal at £58 have been placed ready, but offers received for early and forward deliveries are based too low to admit of transactions. The Iron Market is also steady with a small business passing in Corrugated Sheets at £12 to £12-5 ex Bunder. For Basic Steel prices at home have advanced, and there is a great disparity between local and home values The Coal Market is quiet. In Bengal coals some small sales are reported of Jarsine's Navigation at Rs. 12-8, and of Deshargur at Rs. 13-8. In English coals there have been a few sales of ready Davison's West Hartley at Rs. 15-12.

We have no change to report during the week under review in the Money Market. The Presidency Bank's rates are unaltered at 8 per cent. per annum and in the Bazaar money is still in demand. But in the Exchange Banks there are continued signs of a falling off in the enquiry for funds to finance the export trade. The total applications for Council Bills on Wednesday last amounted to 320 lakhs for the 80 lakhs to be allotted, and the tenders received 24 per cent. The allotment was made at Is. 4d. for bills and 1-4s.1-16d. for telegraphic transfers, which is a decline of one thirty-second on the rate obtained for several weeks past, while the amount to be allotted for next week has been reduced to 70 lakhs, in place of the 80 lakhs which has been the weekly amount for allotment since the last week in January. There is a falling off in the inquiry from the rice ports as the shipping season is drawing to a close. The rate for fixed deposits for two or three months is now 6 per cent. per annum. A shipment of £120,000 in gold is announced from Australia due in India next week

The following changes appear in the Bank of Bombay statement, dated 7th March compared with the previous week:—

LIABILITIES.
Public Deposits	Rs. 19,91,499	Increase
Other Deposits	,, 10,55,384	do.
Credits Undrawn	,, 4 91,159	do.
ASSETS.
Government Securities	Rs. 11,59,814	Increase
Other Authorized Securities	,, 78,712	do.
Credits on Securities	,, 3,04,672	do.
Loans do.	,, 1,70,943	Decrease
Bills discounted & purchased	,, 6 9 8 7	do.
Balance with other Banks	,, 2,3 405	do.
Cash	,, 30,07,935	Increase

These figures show a decline in the Trade Demand of Rs. 20·42 lakhs. The Bank of Bengal statement, dated the 11th inst. shows a falling off in the Trade Demand of 4 lakhs. Cash at Head Office is 4 lakhs up and at Branches 2 1-2 lakhs up. The Government Balances are 11 1-2 lakhs up and the Bank's investments have increased 2 1-2 lakhs.

The Exchange Market has declined one thirty second, both for buying and selling, since last mail left. On Monday there was a fairly large amount of T. T. business put through at Is. 4 1-16d. both in interbank and on private account, and since then banks have been buyers at the rate, and the selling quotation has remained at Is. 4 1-32d. For Bank Demand Is. 4 1-16d. was available until Thursday morning, when it was reduced to Is. 4 1-32d. The quotation for three months sights D-A bills has been Is. 4 7-32d. throughout the week at which rate we hear of few bills coming out. A fair amount is reported to be on the market at Is. 4 3-16d. for one or two mails ahead, but all Banks have refused to buy at the reduction before April and at Is. 4 5-32d. for May. The Banks will be closed for the Easter Holidays from the 28th to the 31st March, both days inclusive and as the 24th is also a closed day for a Hindu holiday, there will only be three open days in the last week of this month. For far forward delivery in the monsoon months, June, July and August there is more disposition to sell by the Banks, and Is. 3 15-16d. T. T. and Is. 3 31-32d. Damand is offered.

In Bullion we hear of little business passing during the week under review. There are large stocks of silver in the market and the lower rates prevailing have not brought out many fresh buyers. In gold the market is quiet.

The Mail of the 28th February, which arrived here to-day, brings silver to Bombay £1,00,000 and gold £60,000 and the following Council Bills:—

Calcutta	lakhs 29·80
Bombay	,, 14·80
Madras	,, 7·30 = 51·90 lakhs.

The Mail of the 7th March due in Bombay about the 21st March brings silver to Bombay £1,00,000 and gold to Bombay £60,000 and the following Council Bills:—

Calcutta	lakhs 18·70
Bombay	,, 7 00
Madras	,, 11·70 = 37·40 lakhs.

The mail of the 14th March due in Bombay about the 28th March brings silver to Bombay £60,000 and gold £ 40,000 and the following Council Bills:—

Calcutta	lakhs 34·70.
Bombay	,, 26 00
Madras	,, 2·60 = 63·30 lakhs.

There has been no excitement during the week in the Rupee Paper Market. The rate has fluctuated about the neighbourhood of 96 1-2 for the settlement of the 2nd April, and any advance on this quotation has generally brought out sellers. There has been a bearish tone in Calcutta, while in Bombay a bullish feeling is prevalent in the bazar. The probability of a new loan in the Budget statement, which is to be published on Wednesday next, is freely discussed. Nothing definite has transpired, but while a certain section of the market declares that a new rupee loan is extremely improbable in view of the large surplus in the Budget, there is a rumour amongst the other party that a loan of about two crores will be provided for on account of railway extension. In the meantime the market is marking time, and there will probably be a rush of business as soon as any definite news is known in the bazar.

The Share Market is steady. Bank of Bombay shares are steady and are reported to have changed hands at 1235 to 1240, while Commercials are quiet at 48. In Mill shares Petits have ruled between 1610 and 1620 and Centrals have advanced to 1515, Swadeshis are quiet at 580 Messrs. Greaves Cotton and Co's shares are all steady and in demand at previous quotations, Morarjee and Sholapurs are steady at 1390 and 1660, Davids are unchanged at 260 Standards at 195, and Currimbhais at 555 In miscellaneous Companies Treachers are reported to have changed hands at 750. Kamps are quiet at 285, Bombay Ice shares have risen to 59. Port Canning have changed hands at 427 1 2. In Railway Companies Taptis were steady at 422 1-2 in the beginning of the week, but they are again quiet at 420. Ahmedabad-Prantej are quiet at 545 xd. The other Companies are more or less unchanged at previous quotations with not much doing in them.

The following are closing quotations:—

HINKS' LAMPS.
M. BRESLAUER & Co.
HAVE been APPOINTED AGENTS for the SALE of these well-known LAMPS, and have just received a splendid assortment, consisting of STANDARD, TABLE and BRACKET LAMPS, in Brass, Copper and Hammered Iron.
These Lamps must not be confounded with those generally sold in Bombay, under the name of HINKS' LAMPS, where, perhaps, a small part bears the name "Hinks," while the other portions consist simply of some cheap foreign stuff, thus making it appear that the whole article is manufactured by Messrs. HINKS & SONS.
Our Prices for the genuine Lamp compare most favourably with those sold in the Bazaar for so-called HINK'S LAMPS.

ENGLAND, AMERICA AND GERMANY.

A MEMBER of the United States House of Representatives, described by one of the New York journals as a Kentucky Yahoo, made a remarkable speech in that august assembly the other day, in condemnation of the "modern disposition towards European flunkeyism," in denunciation of the Administration and State Department, in connection with the "recent exposure of the attitude of Great Britain towards the United States." Until 1896, said he, America had gloried in her splendid isolation—a phrase of European origin by the way—and in a determination to hold aloof from foreign entangling alliances. Less than five years ago, however, "a president, egged on by a pitiable flunkey in the State Department, had stretched his arms across the seas in adulation to the people of Great Britain, and to-day was hugging to its bosom a nation that since the battle of Yorktown had systematically and persistently plotted the downfall of the United States." The latter portion of this sentence had reference to the then approaching visit of Prince Henry of Prussia, whom the same legislator, Wheeler by name, referred to as "a little Dutchman." But he had not yet finished with England. He sneered at the "shoulder-strapped and laced flunkeys, who were to be despatched across the Atlantic to bend and kiss the hand of the English King" whose Government, he declared, had attempted to form a coalition of European powers to thwart the United States which it was seeking to strike the shackles from Cuba. Accepting Mr. Wheeler as an average sample, it would appear that America, besides holding the record for the largest out-turn of pig-iron, is not very far behind in the matter of curmudgeons. Especially was the speech in ill-taste as it was delivered on the eve of the Prince's departure for America. As to his references to England, we can afford to be magnanimous. If we can smile at the vagaries of some of our own representatives and appreciate the humorous aspect of the wild antics of the Nationalist members of Parliament, we need not attach much importance to the utterances of one whom his own countrymen smile at as "a rowdy representative," while others taking him more seriously dub him "a blackguard statesman." His ebullition created but a feeling of indignation in the House. Even if he stood not alone in his disapproval of "flunkeyism" and of Europeans generally, his speech was so ill-timed as to defeat his attempt to rouse popular feeling against the cousins "across the herring-pond." Americans, despite their republicanism, dearly love a head which wears a crown or a coronet, and gave Prince Henry as hearty and demonstrative a welcome as he would have received in any other civilised country.

Mr. Wheeler's lamentable exhibition was doubtless the product of a remarkably hasty judgment in the matter of the alleged duplicity of England regarding the proposed intervention in the Hispano-American War. We have all along been credited with having secured for America a free hand, and having prevented the intervention of the other powers. But the other day a report, emanating from a German source, was published in some of the New York papers to the effect that Lord Pauncefote, on April 14th, 1898, proposed to present a collective vote to the United States Government, declaring American intervention in Cuba unjustifiable. The "North German Gazette" and the "Reichsanzeiger" made much of the matter, and were doubtless glad to get hold of what appeared to be fresh fuel, wherewith they feed the fires of German-Anglophobia. They had some excuse, however, for being misled, for they based their statements on a communication of the German Ambassador at Washington, who was either unacquainted with the facts of the case or misunderstood them. Anyhow he does not appear to be the brilliant personage the representative of so important a country ought to be at the American capital, or he would never have been guilty of such gross blundering as led to the latest exhibition of Anti-English feeling in Germany and, among those who preferred not to remember the real state of affairs, in New York and Washington. Mr. Wheeler is one of these, and one who would have his countrymen believe that in reality England sought to form a coalition of European powers to thwart the United States in her dealings with Spain. As alleged, a meeting of the Ambassadors was held at the British Embassy in Washington. It was convened by Lord Pauncefote as "doyen" of the Ambassador at the suggestion of the Austrian Ambassador, who sent out the invitations to his colleagues. The plain truth, says the Washington correspondent of the "Times," is that all six ambassadors and ministers except Lord Pauncefote and Dr. von Holleben, the German Ambassador, were in favour of intervention on behalf of Spain, in whose interests the Austrian Minister asked that the meeting should be held. The French, Russian and Italian Ambassadors are said to have been hardly less eager than the Austrian Minister. In these circumstances what Lord Pauncefote undertook to do was to moderate the zeal of his colleagues. Like them he had been profoundly impressed by the Spanish Note of April 10, with its large concessions to the United States. He thought it modified the situation and opened a new possibility of averting war. Knowing that his colleagues would urge their Governments to intervene, he sought to frame a statement for their consideration in a manner the most conciliatory, and most friendly to the United States. He thought the President might fairly be told that he had not, as he supposed, "the support and approval of the civilised world," and that the Spanish Note of April 10 "offered a reasonable basis for an amicable solution." Beyond that he did not go. The French Ambassador drafted the note which was sent to the several Governments. On receipt of the communication in England, the British Government replied that the terms of the proposed note were injudicious, and two days later Lord Pauncefote was informed that his Majesty's Government had resolved to take no action."

Such are the real facts of the case. As such they are recognised in America, and the attempt to sow distrust between England and the States has utterly failed. The "New York Sun," which is seldom over-friendly towards England, practically acknowledges this, and acquits Lord Pauncefote of any duplicity. It says: "Whatever may have been Lord Pauncefote's technical connection with the proposed second Collective Note, it is preposterous to suppose that he, of all diplomats, was intriguing in April, 1898, against the interests of the United States. His whole course in this country is in contradiction of that idea. The main purpose of Lord Pauncefote's official life has been to promote friendly relations between his Government and people and ours." The statement that "the British Ambassador, in a very remarkable way, took the initiative for a new collective step on the part of the great powers in Washington, setting forth that in their opinion armed American intervention in Cuba did not appear to be justifiable" has been fully disproved, and we are glad to find that the American Government has expressed itself satisfied on this point. It adheres to its previous attitude. It abides by its conviction of English friendship, and is unshaken in its belief that this friendship was before the outbreak of the Spanish war efficient and helpful. "If what the 'North-German Gazette' now alleges were true," says a Washington correspondent, "it would not alter this belief or this attitude. But it is here known to be untrue." Another result of this reprehensible attempt to keep alive German anti-English feeling has been to increase the number of Germans anxious to put it down. That it has had little effect in official circles, may be gathered from the announcement made the other day that Lord Lansdowne had agreed to admit German consignments of food, clothing and so forth into the Concentration camps free of duty. The announcement which was made in the Prussian diet forced from Herr Richthofen, the Foreign Secretary, an admission of German incivility, when he urged a more just mode of criticism and the necessity for consulting British susceptibilities, remembering that the British and Germans are cousins.

THE MALAY ARCHIPELAGO.

THE change which has come over the Malay Peninsula within a period of thirty years, affords notable testimony to the success of British methods of administration. Where, within short memories, piracy was the chief occupation of the natives inhabiting the seaboard, order now prevails, commerce is being freely developed, and the Peninsula is growing in prosperity. The latest indication of this is found in the scheme of the Sultan of Johore for constructing the railway line which will increase the trade of his territory with Singapore, and at the same time complete the railway from one end of the Peninsula to another. Thirty years ago the Malay Chiefs dissembled their love for each other in the fashion followed by the Princes of India till the consolidation of the British power brought peace to a country distracted by internecine strife. Thirty years ago, also the fierce pirates infesting the China seas and the Malay Archipelago rendered that part of the world the least secure for navigation and commerce. The initiation of measures which have put an end to that state of lawlessness and have produced a flourishing Crown Colony approximating to the condition of Ceylon was the work of Sir Andrew Clarke, the soldier statesman who, in his old age, is still active as the Agent General in London for Victoria and Tasmania. When Sir Andrew Clarke went out as Governor of the Straits Settlements, the piracies and outrages committed in the Malay Archipelago had produced such a feeling in Singapore, Penang and Malacca that strong representations on the subject were made to the home Government. Sir Andrew Clarke was asked to report, but as Mr. Archibald Campbell observes in the "Empire Review," he determined to act first and get sanction for his action afterwards. He despatched Mr. Birch and Mr. now Sir Frank, Swettenham to the leading chiefs with instructions to settle the succession to the Sultanate, and to point out the advantages of peace, law and order, and how the country might develop under the guidance of British officers. Mr. Birch was murdered and Mr. Swettenham narrowly escaped with his life, but subsequently the majority of the Chiefs accepted British protection. Perak, first and Selangor, Negri Sembilan and Pahang successively came under British administration, until six years ago these four states were united under the title of the "Federated Malay States." Johore alone remains independent. The system of administration is similar to that in India, the civil service of the Federated Malay States being admittedly constituted on the lines of the Indian Civil Service. The results attained have been remarkable. In every department of administration there has been development, the Peninsula has greatly advanced in prosperity, and above all, the people enjoy the blessings of peace and civilised order. Successive governors have developed the policy of Sir Andrew Clarke and as a consequence the finest results have been achieved at the least cost to Great Britain.

THE HYDERABAD ASSIGNED DISTRICTS.

THE report of the administration of the Hyderabad Assigned Districts for the past year supplies some interesting particulars in respect of the great famine which prevailed in 1899-1900. The famine, states the report, was universal throughout the whole area, and affected a population of 2,897,040. The autumn crops, owing to the failure of the monsoon, were entirely unproductive, and hardly any spring crops were sown. The estimated loss exhibited by the difference between the out-turn of food grains for the season, and the normal out-turn was 450 lakhs of rupees; and the price of jowari, for instance, went up to 7 seers per rupee. In the middle of July there were in the districts no less than 601,424 persons on relief, and the total expenditure on relief operations during the period of the famine was Rs. 1,19,39,423. Other sums from charitable sources were also expended, and the total amount disbursed was thus over 135 lakhs of rupees. The number of "units" relieved was 109,837,050, the average cost per unit being 1 anna 8 pies. In regard to the policing of the districts, we find that the sanctioned strength of the police force was the same as in the previous year, consisting of 9 Gazetted officers, 562 subordinate officers, and 2,330 constables. The aggregate expenditure on the force was Rs. 5,88,916. In 1900 there was an increase of 66 per cent. in the number of cognizable offences as compared with 1899, and the number of criminal cases that were heard showed a large increase, especially in regard to offences against property. This, however, as the report points out, was to be expected owing to the prevailing famine. In the gaols the number of admissions was larger also. Of the total admissions 2,422 were Hindus, 456 were Mahomedans and four were of other classes. Four hundred and ninety-six of the prisoners had been previously convicted. In the Civil Courts the number of suits instituted was 15,714, or less than the average of the five preceding years by 40 3 per cent. The aggregate value of the suits disposed of was Rs. 29,71,494 as against Rs. 46,59,613. Coming to the Local Government Boards we find that there were as usual six District Boards and 21 Taluk Boards in the province. The total income of these Boards rose from Rs. 6,17,278 in 1899-1900 to Rs. 15,43,231, and the expenditure from Rs. 6,76,920 to Rs. 16,69,380. Of the total area of the province, which is 11,355,914 acres, 72·7 per cent is culturable assessed land. Only 2·1 per cent of this is lying waste. During the year the rainfall was largely increased, the average amounting to 35·57 an increase of over 22 inches in the previous year. The prices of jowari, gram, and wheat rose during the year but the price of labour also rose. The total traffic of the year amounted to 6049,000, maunds of imports valued at Rs. 3,14,84,000, and 4,233,000 maunds of exports valued at Rs. 4,35,83,000. The import trade thus showed an increase of 8·6 per cent. and the export trades an increase of 62·2 per cent. The total expenditure incurred by the Public Works Department during 1899-1900 was Rs. 70,81,583. Of the gross income of the Province, which amounted to Rs. 1,81,65,340, Rs. 1,10,12,413 was derived from Provincial Revenues, Rs. 9,58,960 from Incorporated Local Funds and Rs. 11,93,966 from Municipal Funds. There was a deficit in the year of Rs. 61,01,706 as compared with Rs 49,15,697 in the previous year.

THE KHAIRPUR STATE.

MR. E. A. GEODE has written a book which is a grave indictment of the administration of the Khairpur State, in Upper Sind, by the Vizier Khan Bahadur Kadirdad Khan. The latter was appointed by the British Government to assist His Highness Mir Sir Faiz Mahomed Khan when he succeeded to the "gadi" in 1894 and the least of the charges brought against the Vizier is that he has abused the trust reposed in him for his personal benefit and aggrandizement. Every department of the State has, we are assured, suffered by the maladministration of the Vizier who is charged with promoting incompetent favourites and summarily dismissing or making Khairpur too uncomfortable for efficient officers. The nominal ruler of the State appears to be powerless to do anything to improve matters. Mr. Goode's statements, whether true or false, seem to call for a searching inquiry by the Bombay Government regarding affairs in Khairpur. The author of the book challenges the Vizier to take action against him in a British court of law and declares his ability to prove his charges with a greater fullness of detail than is presented in the book. To the brochure he gives the title "The Khairpur Scandal, or an autocratic Vizier and his maladministration" and it is put forward as an appeal to the British Government, on the assumption as declared by Lord Curzon, that Native States have no right to claim immunity from public criticism when things go wrong there.

THE balloting at the Bombay Chamber of Commerce, yesterday, for a representative of the Chamber on the Bombay Improvement Trust, resulted in the re-election of Mr. C. H. Armstrong, of the Firm of Messrs. Lyon & Co.

IT is announced that a marriage has been arranged between William Robert Shaw, Indian State Railways, and Mary Emmeline Sedley de Jour, of Ballard Lodge, Alverstoke, Hants, only daughter of C. M. deJour, late of Mauritius Civil Service.

THE marriage arranged between Mr. H. J. Clarkson Williams, eldest son of Mr. Harry W. Williams of Bombay, and 45 Albert Gate, S. W. and Mary Jean Helena Maclean Lenders, only child of Mr. F. H. Lenders of 99, Westbourne Terrace, will take place in April.

A THUNDERSTORM on Wednesday evening gave good rain to Calcutta. This is the first fall since the November cyclone.

THE Barmaid question has not yet been settled, certain legal points raised being still under the consideration of the Government of India. The cases of Calcutta and Rangoon, it is understood, are not on all fours, but the whole matter will now be threshed out.

THE good folk of Kumbakonam, it appears, evinced a droll method of greeting the Governor of Madras on his recent visit there. At the railway station, on his arrival, a jail-made carpet was placed for him to alight on, and it bore the figure of an elephant, and the cheerful welcome "Good Morning, Jumbo."

THE plague returns for the week ending on the 8th instant show 23,715 deaths against 21,789 in the week preceding, and 7,900 in the similar period of last year. The principal figures are: The Punjab, 12,544 against 10,525; Bombay Districts, 4,806 against 5,303; the United Provinces, 2,187 against 2,143; Bengal Districts, 1,225 against 1,10; Jammu, 553, against 530; Bombay City, 888 against 750; Calcutta, 462; against 349; Mysore State, 415 against 426; Madras Presidency, 36 against 456; Berar, 24 against 14. The worst districts in the Punjab were Ludhiana, 3,112; Umballa, 1,870; Sialkote, 1,356 and Patiala State 1904.

REPORTS have gained currency during the last few days that Captain Evans, at present employed on plague duty at Mirzapore, was attacked and done to death by the villagers. It is unfortunately true that Captain Evans was attacked and seriously injured: but it is not true that he succumbed to his injuries. On the contrary, on Wednesday he was progressing favourably. As to the cause of the attack it is the old story of the motives of a plague officer endeavouring to persuade the people to adopt ordinary sanitary precautions being misunderstood, and of the officer getting knocked on the head for his pains. The incident is one which may be commended to the attention of the newspapers which have lately been complaining of the lack energy of the British plague official.

THE late Commissioner of Lahore, whose sudden death we recorded the other day was an Irishman of the Irish, and, like most Irishmen, a general favourite. Many stories were told of his reckless daring as a young man, in the days when his "soubriquet" was Robert the Devil, but of late he was better known for his open-handed generosity and unfailing hospitality, especially to his junior subordinates. Mr. Clarke was closely associated for many years with the fortunes of Delhi, and as Deputy Commissioner and then Commissioner had much to do with advancing the prosperity of that city. His fine presence and genial manners made him popular with Europeans and natives alike, and his sound commonsense and wide practical experience made him an excellent administrator. There was probably no one in the Punjab with a better knowledge of men, or with whom so many people were in touch. His loss will be very genuinely felt throughout the Province.

As we recently noticed, the Amir Habibullah some time ago invited the Haddah Mullah to be present at Kabul at the religious ceremony at Nauroz, in connection with His Highness' installation as ruler of Afghanistan. Our latest information is that the Mullah has not started from Chamarkand, and that his visit to Kabul has been delayed indefinitely. The fact appears to be that the old priest does not care to face the discomforts and risks of a journey across the hills at this season of the year. It could take him at least fourteen days to reach Kabul, and March is not so pleasant a month to travel in as April. He may, therefore, consider it more convenient to wait until after the Nauroz before setting forth on his journey. And if the delay led to the abandonment of the visit altogether, so much the better. It is natural perhaps that His Highness should be anxious to see his old tutor again, and do honour to him: but the Amir may perhaps not quite have realised the effect of his summons politically. The Mullah has made great capital out of the invitation, and he may be tempted to revive the fanatical spirit which blazed up so fiercely in the tribal districts in 1897. Najibud-din is best left to split doctrinal hairs with rival Mullahs in his retreat in the Mohmand country.

SOME interesting experiments in heliographic signalling have recently been successfully carried out on the North-West Frontier. Three miles from Miranshah, in the Tochi Valley, is a high hill called Zeotanga, and from this communication was established with Fort Lockhart on the Samana Range, in one direction and with Bannu in another and with Datta Kel in a third. As Kohat is in heliographic touch with the Samana, it was found possible to signal messages from that station to Fort Lockhart, and thence to pass them on to Zeotanga, sixty miles away. This experiment proved that all the posts in Miranzai could be put in communication with those in the Tochi, while Kohat and Bannu could be linked up. Zeotanga is the key of the system thus established. It is important to know this, as in case of disturbance on the border involving the cutting of the telegraph, the heliograph could still provide the mans of communication between outlying ports and such places as Kohat and Bannu. A heliograph map of India, we understand, is being prepared, and countless particular attention will be paid to the whole lenght of the North-West Frontier. In time to come, when the wireless system of telegraphy is perfected, and the installations are cheapened, thre may be Marconi stations and strategic points on the borderland, but pending this, the heliograp may be considered as a useful supplement of the telegraph wire. Long distance-signalling, however, is only possible when the weather is clear: Marconi's apparatus is independent of climatic conditions, and hence the great advantages which are attached to it. If the Government of India wish to give it a trial, they might see whether the Malakand could be put into touch with Kila Drosh in Chitral, whether the garrison is completely isolated. Another installation might be tried at Peshawar, to ensure communication with Landi Kotel. The expense would not be great and the results might be important.

SATISFACTION is felt that the Board of Trade is about to arrange a conference with the chief transit officer of the Suez Canal Company for settlement of the question as to the amount to be levied on the shade edeck space of vessels passing through the canal. The shade deck being open, in the Board of Trade certificates of tonnage, it is not taken in accounts, and although the charging of dues on such part of the shade deck as was occupied by cargo was not objected to, the recent practice made of charging for the whole of the shade dook space, whether occupied by cargo or not, has been a source of dissatisfaction. It is hoped that the forthcoming conference will alter this.

THE KING AND IRISH AFFAIRS.

THE PROPOSED ROYAL VISIT TO IRELAND.

WHY IT IS ABANDONED.

LONDON, MAR. 13

It is believed that the decision of His Majesty the King to cancel his trip to Ireland is largely due to the behaviour of the Irish members in the Commons on Monday, when the despatches regarding Lord Methuen's reverse were read, and partly to the unsatisfactory condition of the country owing to the agitation by the Irish League.

THE CIVIL ESTIMATES.

THE LAND WAR IN IRELAND.

During the debate on the Civil Estimates, Mr. Wyndham, replying to a motion of Mr. Redmond to reduce his salary, said Government were determined to bring to justice all those misleading or coercing the miserable tenants and to promote an agreement between landlords and tenants. He made no mention of the Crimes Act.

ENGLISH POLITICAL AND SOCIAL LETTER.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, MARCH 28.

LORD ROSEBERY AND THE LIBERAL PARTY.

LORD ROSEBERY'S letter to the "Times," in answer to the challenge made to him by Sir Henry Campbell Bannerman, did not produce, after all, an enduring sensation. The "Crisis," if that be not indeed an exaggeration, did not last more than three days, having apparently been exhausted by Sunday's Club Gossip. The Liberal party's policy of self-complacency endured without shock till the middle of the week, when what proved to be quite a mild one was administered by the issue of a Rosebery'an "manifesto" announcing the formation of the new Liberal League, in the following terms :—"It has been decided by those who adhere to the Chesterfield policy that they have no intention of severing themselves from the Liberal party, but, on the contrary, intend to act with the rest of the Liberal Opposition on the lines of that policy. For the purposes of organisation and development on those lines an association, under the name of the Liberal League, has been formed. Its first President is Lord Rosebery, and its Vice-Presidents are Mr. Asquith, Sir Henry Fowler, and Sir Edward Grey. It is not believed that there will be any extensive or significant rally to Lord Rosebery's standard in the House of Commons, and practically none in the House of Lords. Nor is it anticipated that he will make any great captores in the constituencies, although something may depend upon what the ex-Premier says when he speaks at Glasgow on March 10th. Some surprise is expressed that Mr. Asquith has definitely "separated" himself along with Lord Rosebery, and gone outside of the "tabernacle" with Sir Edward Grey and Sir Henry Fowler. One result of Lord Rosebery's letter and the formation of the new organisation—which some wag has christened, playing upon the ex-Premier's family name—the New Primrose League, has been to cause a great rush of hopeless applications for places at the dinner to which Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is to be entertained at the National Liberal Club next Wednesday, the anticipation being that Sir Henry may take the opportunity of expressing his views concerning the latest development.

THE DUKE OF DEVONSHIRE ON THE LIBERAL IMPERIALISTS.

Lord Rosebery and the Liberal Imperialists, have all along been credited with believing that in forming a third party they would secure a great rally from the ranks of the Liberal Unionists. This is a view which has been regarded with scepticism by the old Liberal Party, owing to the conviction that the Liberal Unionists have been to all intents and purposes absorbed into the Conservatives. The Duke of Devonshire, speaking at the Annual General Meeting of the Liberal Unionist Council at the Westminster Palace Hotel, has now definitely confirmed the Liberal belief that the Liberal Imperialists have no hope whatever of detaching the Liberal Unionists from their long and close alliance with the Conservatives. On this point the Duke said : "In spite of the new competition to which they were now exposed, the competition of the party which they had up to now known under the name of Liberal Imperialists, but which they were now to recognise as the New Liberal League, and notwithstanding the brilliant leadership of the party and the repudiation on the part of the leaders of some of the heresies of the past, he was unable to observe any indication that this new organization had had any effect in attracting away from them any of their own following or any indication that their substantial but modest strength in Parliament or in the country was suffering or was likely to suffer from diminution. He failed to see in eloquent speeches which he had recently delivered that Lord Rosebery had done anything to reconstruct a party on a basis which could offer any inducements, either to them or to those within it whose confidence in their leaders had recently been weakened to join his own standard." The Duke, not usually a particularly lively orator, was in a merry mood, and rallied Lord Rosebery in some amusing banter. He declared that "all the great leaders whom he remembered had made strong attacks upon their political opponents, but he did not think that one of them would have dreamed at any period of his career, either in office, in opposition, or in retirement, of addressing his friends or his opponents in the tones of impartial superiority which Lord Rosebery seemed to think were going to attract a considerable number of political people back to his standard. Lord Rosebery was disappointed with the Irish party, he addressed his own late party exactly as if they were a set of silly children and, on the whole, he thought the Conservative party escaped easiest. They were Tories, and there was nothing more to be said."

THE CONTRACT SCANDALS.

The public uneasiness and suspicion, by no means confined to one political section, concerning the revelations and allegations as to grave scandals and possible corruption in connection with the War Office remount, meat, and transport contracts, was voiced in the House of Lords by Lord Tweedmouth. The noble Lord did not confine his self to criticism, but moved for the appointment of a Joint Committee of the two Houses of Parliament to inquire into all contracts and purchases made by the War Office, or on its behalf, for the outfit, supply, and maintenance of our troops in South Africa. As to the remounts he alleged that they were unfit for their work in the field, and that out of £111,000 which was paid for 3,800 horses, certainly not less that £45,000 went into the pockets of four gentlemen interested in the purchase of them. With regard to the meat contracts, Lord Tweedmouth affirmed that in the first instance a contract for frozen and fresh meat was entered into with the Cold Storage Company at the rate of 11d per lb. while the prices in a later contract were only 7d per lb. for frozen, and 10d per lb. for fresh meat. But in the very latest contract the charges had actually been reduced for frozen meat to 5 1-2 per lb, and for fresh meat 8d 1-2 per lb. The inevitable conclusion, he argued, was that the Cold Storage Company had made an enormous profit, a profit estimated by Mr. Beryl, the present Government contractor, at six millions sterling. On the question of transport he declared that our principal transport contractors had made almost outrageous terms with the authorities in South Africa. Amongst the many stories he told one indicating the slimness of the average Army contractor tickled their lordships' fancy. It was, he said, the custom, when a supply of oxen for draught purposes had been paid for and provided, for the contractor to send a number of his men to follow the convoy. When an ox fell down from fatigue, and was abandoned on the route, these men carefully tended it, and when it was somewhat rested and refreshed, they drove it back to the post left in the morning, and next day sold it again at full contract price for the service of the Army. These things, Lord Tweedmouth said, might be true or untrue. They were persistently current, and in justice to the contractor, as well as for the advantage of the public service, they should be tested by inquiry. The Government through Lord Selborne and Lord Lansdowne while admitting grudgingly that the case was prima facie evidence of need for inquiry declined to grant any immediate inquiry, on the ground that the service during a time of war would be seriously dislocated and hampered of hundreds of officers had to be summoned home from the front as witnesses, Lord Crewe, Lord Rosebery, and Lord Spencer all supported the resolution, and then Lord Salisbury intervened in the debate. The Prime Minister referring to Lord Rosebery's argument that if the delay sought by the Government were granted public interest should have died out before the enquiry took place, declared that he was not disposed to paralyse the army in the field in order to keep up the blaze of public indignation some noble lords thought essential to attain their object. It never seemed to occur to the Government, or more probably they found it convenient to forget, that there was a very simple way of obviating the difficulty of bringing home witnesses from active service by sending out a Commission to take evidence, as has already been done, in the case of the Hospitals and the Concentration Camps. But the argument sufficed as probably no argument would also have done in the Houses of Lords, and Lord Tweedmouth's motion was defeated by 88 votes to 25.

Twenty-one Liberals and four Unionists constituted the minority. The Liberals were the Marquis of Ripon, the Marquis of Northampton, the Earl of Rosebery, the Earl of Crewe, the Earl of Portsmouth, the Earl of Cork, Earl Spencer, Earl Carrington, Lords Ribblesdale, Monkswell, Battersea, Northbourne, Hobhouse, Davey, Burghclere Coleridge, Tweedmouth, Sandhurst, Welby, Brassey, and Reay. The Unionists were the Marquis of Ciasricarde the Earl of Lonsdale the Earl of Durham, and Lord Denman. Ministerial majority consisted of eighty-eight peers.

THE INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT OF INDIA.

There was a very interesting meeting at the Society of Arts yesterday afternoon when that enterprising young Hindu Mr. N. B. Wagle discoursed before the Society's Indian section on the above subject. The Under-Secretary of State for India, Lord Hardwicke, paid the section and the lecture the compliment of coming down to preside, and the audience was as usual as influential as it was numerous. Since the Indian Section was formed 33 years ago, six Indian gentlemen have been contributors of papers, three being members of the Parsee community and three Hindus—one from each Presidency. Mr. Wagle need not fear comparison with his predecessors. If I may however be allowed to criticise I would say that his paper would have been all the better for a little more condensation, although as we are accustomed to say of nearly every Indian question the subject is a big one, and I am inclined to agree with the chairman that Mr. Wagle while he showed none of bitterness of certain Indian and Anglo-Indian controversialists did not err in recognising what British rule has done for this country. Cheap capital, expert advice, and kindly superintendence were the pressing needs of the population. A great commercial movement on the co-operative system was highly needed. Cities, towns, villages, might all be joined together by a sort of network by such a movement ; and when the demand of the people was once taken under control, small industries might be started by the accumulating of small capital belonging to the Indians themselves and good understanding might be arrived at with foreign capitalists who would be too willing to start a concern the sale of whose products would be partially guaranteed. It will be remembered that a valuable paper on the same subject was read two years ago by Mr. J. A. Baines, and Mr. Wagle rather found fault with that gentleman for not indicating on the occasion referred to any practical scheme. He went even further and complained of the following passage in Mr. Baines's paper :—"Indian society being what it is, it is hardly to be expected that its industrial quickening will be effected by the outward application of direct stimulus, either in the shape of [illegible] or, more insidiously, by State dry-nursing." "Mr. Baines's view," said his critic "chills all energy and hopeful drives us towards despair." Nor did Sir Muncherjee Bhownagree altogether escape. Mr. Wagle pays a tribute to the Hon. Member for Bethnal Green for his services in the House. "It is a pity that we have not yet been favoured by Sir Muncherjee with a scheme of his own, well drawn in all its details, from the start to the end." Unfortunately Sir Muncherjee was kept away by a debate in the House of Commons on the London Water Bill in which his constituents are necessarily much interested and Mr. Baines had to leave early to attend Sir E. Carbutt's dinner to the Duke of Devonshire at the Reform Club. But there was an excellent discussion in which the Chairman, Mr. F. H. Skrine, Sir Lepel Griffin, Prof. Dunstan, Sir Guildford Molesworth, Mr. Horace Bell, Sir William Wedderburn and others took part. Lord Hardwicke in the course of his remarks emphasised what his chief Lord G. Hamilton said in the same hall a fortnight earlier as to the intention of the Government of India to spend on technical education a fair proportion of the revenues of the country.

OLLA PODRIDA.

Lord Rosebery declines to enter C. B.'s tabernacle, but he seems to find pleasure in visiting the tabernacle of Dr. Joseph Parker. The papers inform us that the congregation at the city temple on Sunday night included the ex-Liberal Prime Minister, and this is the second visit to the same chapel within a very few weeks. Cynics ask if the noble earl is trying to conciliate the "Non-conformist conscience" which has long been rather uneasy on account of his lordship's weakness in keeping up a racing stable, although it is no doubt a fact as Mr. Perks, M. P., has just been reminding us that all the more influential of Dissenting weekly papers have hitherto been on the side of Lord Rosebery.

Sir Frederick Abel's dinner at the Athenæum Club to-night in honour of Sir George Birdwood is, I hear, to be attended by the following guests :—The Lord Chief Justice of England (Lord Alverstone), the Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster (Lord James of Hereford), the Secretary of State for India (Lord George Hamilton), Sir Frederick Bramwell, Sir Stewart Colvin Bayley, Sir Edward Bradford, Sir Owen Tudor Burne, Sir William Lee-Warner, Sir Edward Buck, Sir W. Thiselton Dyer, Sir Horace Waller, Sir Charles Lyall, Sir H. H. Wood, Mr. Moberley Bell, Mr. T. W. Holderness, Mr. H. M. Birdwood, Mr. Carmichael Thomas, and Mr. C. Purdon Clark.

I understand that Lady Hunter proposes to publish a volume containing what his biographer calls the "memorable series of articles," on the "India of the Queen" contributed by her late husband to "The Times" together with other papers of his, and that she has asked Sir G. Birdwood to write the introduction. I hope he will consent, for he would do it better than anybody else, and I suspect that some of the papers now to be reproduced owed their origin to Sir George's suggestion. A considerable portion of what I may term Sir W. W. Hunter's fugitive writings were of a permanent value and many people will be glad to hear that they are to be rescued from oblivion.

The "Pro-Indians" are getting bolder every day. They are very angry if any one tells them that they are trying their best to put an end to British rule, but I see that according to the report in the organ of the Socialists of a lecture by "Comrade" Hyndman he stated that he thought the best thing possible for India would be for us to withdraw altogether. The cue apparently now is to exalt the rule of India in the Feudatory states at the expense of the rule of the English in the rest of India. In reply to a convenient question the lecturer said that in his memory famine had only occurred once in Native States. That was on the occasion of the last famine, and might be accounted for by the fact that the Native States were adopting our methods of screwing up the land tax and levying it in money.

ALLEGED PERJURY.

SEQUEL TO AN ABKARI CASE.

YESTERDAY at the Esplanade Police Court before Mr. Karsandas Chabildas, the Third Presidency Magistrate, Mr. Hugh Sealy, on behalf of his client Mr. Kapadia, filed two applications, requesting his Worship to sanction the prosecution of Mr. Clark Assistant Collector of Abkari, and Mr. B. A. Parekh, Abkari Inspector, for perjury in the case against Mrs. C. Athalde. Mr. Clarke is alleged to have made the following statements during the hearing of that case,—(a) that during the examination of Macquire on the 17th May 1900 he requested the court to let him open one of the bottles so that he might convince his Worship that it contained Gin-liquor ; while on the contrary it is alleged no such application was made. (b). That as Mr. Clarke remembered a case at Mazagaon on 3rd May 1901 in which contents of a bottle of liquor were changed, he applied to the Court to allow him to open the bottles there and then ; where as that incident took place on the 12th June of the same year. Besides in that case the Magistrate held that the bottle had not been changed. Mr. Parekh is alleged to have made the following statements :—(a) That he had sealed the box on the 17th May when Mr. Macquire was examined, which he denied on another occasion and said he had only put the seals on the box on the 4th June. Mr. Sealy applied that this was open to support other evidence on 1st October. Mr. Parekh had given evidence that there were Marrett's Brandy labels on all the bottles, while on November 28th he said that he had examined the contents of the bottles and not the lables but when his former statement was read over to him, he said that he had seen the lables. Mr. Sealy argued that one of the statements must be false as they were contradictory. As the applications were long, Mr. Sealy requested the Magistrate to consider them and compare the statements with the record. He requested that as the Hon. Mr. Mehta, barrister-at-law, was going to appear on Monday, His Worship might pass his order on that day.

THE BOMBAY-SIND RAILWAY.

SATARA NOTES.

THE BOER CAMP.

OUR Satara correspondent, writing on the 12th instant, says :—When I last wrote, we were expecting the Boers.. They came about ten days ago, only 180 of them. You have already commented on the fact that they were removed from Ahmednagar without parole first being given, and that a fiasco at Poona Station was the result. Some people say that no parole could be given at Ahmednagar, because certain irreconcilables would have made it too hot for the parole givers.

This seems a feeble and unlikely explanation of the matter. Meanwhile one wonders whether those who refused to give parole at Poona have been detained in the military prison. If so, they are probably regretting their obstinacy ; for I believe "Tommy" considers the Poona Military Prison as one of the most unpleasant places in the world.

The Boers here seem very delighted with the climate, pleased with their quarters and above all charmed to be free again, with no bayonets round them. They enjoy a very slightly fettered liberty, and from what I hear of the rules and regulations, they have every reason to be satisfied with them. I think the whole batch look healthier since their arrival here.

By the courtesy of the officer in charge, I visited the camp which is not open—of course to the public, and the hospital. The arrangements seem excellent, and everything has been done with extraordinary speed and by dint of strenuous exertions on the part of the P. W. D.; our Executive Engineer, Mr. John is to be congratulated on the result. Such things as iron piping, corrugated iron roofing, lamps, and wooden planks—let the Forest Department mark it—had to be obtained by wire from Bombay ! Major Whyte is Camp Commandant, and is assisted by Mr. Harcourt of the Welsh Regiment. Specially selected sergeant look after the Boers in camp, according to their section and the Boer officers themselves look after their rank and file. The Boer commandant, elected by the Boers, seems to have a great influence amongst them, and was a "Landrost" in South Africa. Many of the Boers here are young boys, and not a few elderly men. The former enjoy kicking a foot ball about in the morniega. The Royal Scots have provided the necessary contingent of European troops, with whom came Capt. Nash, Mr. Lumsden, Mr. Collingridge and Mr. Home, who is in charge of Satara Fort. A special medical officer, Mr. Henderson, R. A. M. C., arrived yesterday. In addition there is the censor for the Boer Camp, Mr. Alston.

The station now seems a good deal larger ; but we are sorry to have lost Mr. Bennet's who sailed for England by last mail and Canon and Mrs. Hone who have seceded to Mahableshwar, not I fear, to return here permanently. Mr. Shepherd has arrived to take up the work of additional Assistant Judge.

A good deal of golf and lawn tennis is being played with considerable skill on the part of new arrivals.

I hear that Mr. Plunkett, District Deputy Collector, is probably going to the Punch Mahals, and that Mr. Bharucha will come here from Dohad in his place.

The weather is warmer, but nothing very severe, and I have not heard of any departures for Mahableshwar yet. The plague still continues in districts, but has virtually died out in the city, which is beginning to look more lively. I hear that water is getting rather low in the district wells ; but after all we are half way through March already.

I forgot to mention one strange thing about the Boers here ; they seem passionately attached to medicine and swallow the doctor's bitterest concoctions with rapture and delight. In fact, it does not seem possible to invent any draught disgusting enough to undermine the popularity of a morning visit to the local Hospital. If we are to get 300 or 500 more Boers here, this tendency may prove expensive.

CONVICTION ALTERED AND SENTENCE REMITTED.

MR. P. H. DASTUR, Second Presidency Magistrate, in January last, convicted Govind Mahadeo of voluntarily causing hurt by a dangerous weapon and sentenced him to three months' rigorous imprisonment. An application for revision was made to the High Court on the accused, and the application was heard on Thursday before the Hon. Mr. Justice Candy and the Hon. Mr. Justice Fulton, Mr. S. B. Spencer and Mr. H. C. Coyajee appeared for the accused.

The Magistrate, in his finding, said the accused struck the complaintant, Mahadeo Makund, on his forehead with a stick, and when his brother and his wife interfered, he also assaulted them. The complainant had occasion to send a petition against the accused to the Police Commissioner some days previously to the assault. The complainant bore a mark, and was supported by four witnesses, two of them quite independent of the parties. For the defence, it was said that the accused was not present on the occasion, but that the complainant got hurt accidentally in a quarrel he had with one Atmaram. If so, why should the complainant have at once charged the accused, and not Atmaram. Moreover, the Magistrate asked, why was it not the evidence that the forthcoming before him tendered before the police when their investigated the case? The Magistrate thought, therefore, that this defence was an after thought, and that the accused struck the complainant, because he had sent a petition to the Police Commissioner, 1880. On the circumstances the defendant prayed that the plaintiffs were not entitled to the relief claimed.

The second defendant stated that the plaintiffs were not entitled to the possession of the books as were now in the possession of the defendants so long as the accounts between the parties were not adjusted and settled, and the defendants were given a full release in respect thereof. The defendants claimed a lien on the books and papers until the amount due to them by the plaintiffs in respect of their commission, disbursements, and services was paid to them.

Evidence in the case was proceeded with.

you will in after years cause for gratitude to the Institution under which you received your earliest training. That it may be the good fortune of many of you to fulfil the prediction I have just uttered is my most earnest wish, and I most heartily wish well to the Victoria Jubilee Technical Institute. (Applause).

THE HON. MR. JUSTICE CHANDAVARKAR.

In proposing a vote of thanks to His Excellency Lord Northcote for his attendance at the ceremony the Hon. Mr. Justice Chandavarkar said :—Ladies and Gentlemen—I have very great pleasure in proposing a most hearty vote of thanks to His Excellency for having presided on this occasion and for the interest which His Excellency has been evincing in this institution. The occasion reminds me of this that one of His Excellency's predecessors Lord Reay—whom we all remember with gratitude was the founder of this institution, and I think it is very gratifying to find that his Excellency is trying to follow in the footsteps of Lord Reay (Applause) His Excellency has told us to-day that as far as the financial support of Government is concerned he can only say that it would give Government great pleasure indeed to accord any support that it was in a position to do. But I may say if institutions of this kind—industrial institutions in particular—that what we require is not the financial support of Government so much as what I may call the Governor's eye. This is an institution which in the first place is a little outside of the City of Bombay if I may say so, and secondly it is in its infant condition, and therefore it cannot cry so loud as to be always heard by Government. But if his Excellency would frequently visit this institution to see how it is going on, I am quite sure that the result would be that the institution would prosper (Applause). It has always seemed to be that there are two classes whom we Indian, at any rate remember and will always remember with nothing but kindly memory Lord Elphinstone and Sir Stafford Northcote, the first, ladies and gentlemen for scholarship, his works, her history, of the very kindly manner in which he wrote about the people of the country; and Sir Stafford Northcote—I call him Sir Stafford Northcote because that is the name by which we remember him—who will always be remembered to the high minded and level-headed statesmanship with which he ruled the people of this country while at the India Office, and the practical statesmanship which he showed both in his despatches and letters as regards the Government of India. In one of those letters which he wrote at the beginning of 1866—a letter which I may say seemed to me so suggestive that I made a note of it at the time—he said that in trying to develope the Industrial spirit of the people what we had to do was not to teach industrial arts so much as to help the people do the thing themselves. I see my friend Major Mayne stated here about a month ago we recited this institute and tried to acquaint ourselves with the work it was doing and Major Mayne achieved the Principal whether this institute would not be doing its work more effectually if it tried to teach the students not work which required costly machinery, but handicrafts, so that they might go into the village and take the industries among the people. That is the sort of work the Institution has to do. I am quite sure that if this work is carried on the industrial spirit of this country will be developed and I already see very hopeful signs. The industrial spirit is already abroad, and the number of students from mofussil and the fact that this Institution is proving insufficient shows that my countrymen are not a hopeless lot, and that the industrial spirit is already abroad and is very hopeful. All we want is earnest and active interest on the part of the head of the Government and we are deeply indebted to your Excellency for taking its interests under your special protection, no one will say that you have been partial to this institution at the expense of others. I now ask you to carry this vote with acclamation (applause.)

The vote was carried.

AN OVERDOSE OF CHLORODYNE.

MR. P. Byrne, the Coroner, held an inquest yesterday afternoon at Marcweather Road, regarding the death of Ada Florence Carruthers, aged twenty-seven, the wife of Mr. Robert Carruthers, Marine Superintendent of the Bombay and Persian Steam Navigation Company. The deceased had been very depressed since the death of her son about three weeks ago. She had been complaining of headache and insomnia and was under the treatment of Dr. Lafond who prescribed sleeping draughts for her. The treatment, however, did not give her any relief and she now and again complained of feeling unwell. On Thursday afternoon, when Mr. Carruthers returned home he found the deceased drowsy and hard to keep awake. Dr. Lafond was then present and attended her. She could not be aroused and Dr. Lafond thought something serious was the matter. Mr. Carruthers then looked for the sleeping draughts to see as to what she had taken and on enquiries among the servants he ascertained that the deceased had sent for a bottle of chlorodyne from Leopold and Company about 11 a.m. that day. The bottle was not found Dr. Hojel was then summoned to assist Dr. Lafond, but deceased did not regain consciousness and died at noon yesterday. The medical evidence went to show that death was due to chlorodyne poisoning. The jury returned a verdict that death was due to overdose of chlorodyne which deceased took by accident.

INDIA IN PARLIAMENT.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THE ROYAL ARMY MEDICAL CORPS.

TUESDAY, Feb. 25, Dr. Thompson asked the Secretary of State for India: If he is aware that the Government of India refuse to allow officers of the Royal Army Medical Corps the same pay and allowances as are granted to the officers of other branches of the Army of the same rank; whether this refusal is delaying the issue of the new Royal Warrant for reform of the Royal Army Medical Department, and whether he will use his influence with the Indian Government to remedy the grievance which in the past has injured the interests of the Royal Army Medical Corps.

Lord G. Hamilton: No proposal has been refused by the Government of India, nor made to them, to assimilate the pay and allowances of the Royal Army Medical Corps to those of any other branch of the Army. The pay of officers of the corps serving in India was increased somewhat in 1897, and compares favourably with that of most other branches of the Service. Various questions relating to the organisation of the corps are engaging the attention of the Government of India, and I hope shortly to receive and consider their recommendations on the subject.

THE JOINT PURSE AGREEMENT AND THE AUSTRALIAN MESSAGE FUND.

Sir E. Sassoon asked the Secretary of State for India whether it was proposed to delay taking any steps concerning the joint purse agreement and the Australian message fund, in which India was a partner with the Eastern, the Indo-European, and the Eastern Extension Companies, until after the House had had the opportunity of considering the final report of the Inter-Departmental Committee on Cable Communication, and would he say when it was expected this final report would be issued; whether he would arrange to issue a detailed account of the recent negotiations between the Indian Government and the companies, which had resulted in a reduction of the Indian rate to 2s. 0d.; and whether he would state if it had been arranged that Government messages to and from India be carried at half rates.

Lord G. Hamilton: It is not proposed to interrupt or delay the negotiations which have for some time past been in progress with regard to a date for the determination of the joint purse agreement and of the Australian message fund. I do not know when the final report of the Inter-Departmental Committee will be issued. It is not proposed to publish any account of the negotiations which have led to a reduction of the Indian rate. The rate for Government messages between the United Kingdom and India has always been, and will continue to be, the same as that for private messages.

Sir E. Sassoon asked whether the House would be allowed to consider the recommendations of the committee of inquiry.

Lord G. Hamilton: I doubt my hon. friend assumes that the report of this committee will in some way contravene some action we propose to take. In think he will find that is not the case.

THE RATE OF PRESS MESSAGES TO INDIA.

Sir Edward Sassoon asked the Secretary of State for India: Whether Press messages will participate proportionately in the reduced rates to India; and, if not, can he explain why they will not so participate.

Lord G. Hamilton: The Press rate will be reduced from is. 4d. to is. This is not in exact proportion to the reduction of the rate for ordinary messages, but the shilling rate appears to be a reasonable one, and I am not prepared to press the companies for any further reduction at present.

THE FAMINE.

Thursday, Feb. 27.—Dr. Caine asked the Secretary of State for India: Whether he is aware that on Dec. 7 last the number of persons on famine relief in India was 21,900, and that by the telegram of Feb. 23 the number had risen to 312,000; whether he can say to what extent failure of the spring crops on unirrigated land is anticipated on account of the holding off of the usual winter rains; whether he can state what are the agricultural prospects for the next three months, what is the anticipation as to additional relief required, and what steps are being taken in order to ensure to the peasant cultivators timely remissions of their revenue due upon the coming spring harvest.

Lord G. Hamilton: Owing to the early termination of the monson rains and the holding off of the winter rains the crops on unirrigated lands over certain portions of the Bombay Presidency and the South-East Punjab (and also in the Baroda State, Rajpootana, and Central India, are, poor, and in places have failed. In these tracts agricultural prospects are not good. There is, however, sufficient pasturage and water for the cattle. Foodprices are comparatively low, and outside the affected tracts crop prospects are promising. Relief is being given by local Governments according to the requirements of the people, and will be expanded as may be necessary. The local Governments have also full discretionary powers as to the suspension or remission of the land revenue, and I do not doubt that they will make proper use of them.

THE CROPS IN THE PUNJAB.

Mr. Caine asked the Secretary of State for India: Whether he has any official information to the effect that the prolonged drought has destroyed the unirrigated crops in the Punjab, and caused a shortage of water in the canals, which threatens the irrigated crops also; and if he has received no reports will he make inquiry into this matter.

Lord G. Hamilton: My latest official information, which dates from the end of last month, is to the effect that though the unirrigated crops in the Punjab are generally suffering from the deficiency of the winter rains, they have failed only in a few districts. The irrigated crops are reported to be good and the area under canal irrigation is above the average.

RUSSIA, AFGHANISTAN, AND PERSIA.

THE BAGHDAD RAILWAY.

The Odessa correspondent of the "Standard," writing on Feb. 20, says :—

Lord Cranborne's speech in the House of Commons relative to British interests in Persia has, when read in the full context, called forth a good deal of pertinent, and even angry, comment in the semi-official organs of the Russian Press. The prospect of England extending the Indian railway system to Beloochistan, as a concurrent event with Germany's construction of the Baghdad line, raises something closely akin to positive alarm in this country. That Germany and England, between them should, by their respective railway projects threaten to cut off Russia's way to the "warm waters" of the Persian Gulf, creates an outlook says the "Novoe Vremya," which this country cannot contemplate without the most serious misgivings. It is time for action and not for words and recriminations. The vacillating policy pursued by Russia for the last 15 years in Persia has been, comparatively speaking, as barren and unsatisfactory as her procedure in Turkey, where Russian influence has been relegated to a secondary position by Germany.

In Afghanistan, adds the correspondent, the outlook is not so clear, owing to the events of the last couple of years; and the news latterly coming thence from Russian sources is by no means reassuring. While the Great Powers have been engaged in China.

Afghanistan, with the assistance of English capital, and under the tutelage of English engineers and expert instructors, has been strenuously and ceaselessly increasing its armaments. Along the Afghan frontier, closely adjacent o Russian Turkestan a line of strong forts is approaching completion. Afghanistan now possesses its own arms and ammunition manufactories, arsenals, and military schools, and is at the present moment organising a general Staff on the European system. When Russia considers by what means and through whose agency these so-called "internal reforms" have been accomplished in Afghanistan it is no longer permissible to her to doubt that the Ameer's dominion is not a mere Buffer State, but a practically impregnable outpost of British India, ever threatening Russia's position in Central Asia. Under these conditions the anxiety of Russia is all the more well-grounded, inasmuch as despite the fact of the Transcaspian Railway running close up to the Afghan frontier, and of the near neighbourhood and neighbourship between this country and Afghanistan, a latter State is now beginning to swarm, not with Russian, but with British factories and commercial agencies; and it is well to remember how closely allied are political and mercantile interests in all Asiatic countries. Consequently, it is Russia's immediate task to exert all her competitive powers against the English in Afghanistan, and to place once for all, upon a clearly comprehensive and satisfactory footing the political relations between this country and the Ameer. It is in this general direction of Persia, North and South, and Central Asia that Russia's policy must in the near future counterbalance Germany's aggressively expansive procedure in Asiatic Turkey.

THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

SUCCESS BY NATIONAL SCOUTS.

BRITISH CONVOY AND GUNS CAPTURED.

ANOTHER SWEEPING MOVEMENT.

[From the mail papers) February 21st to 28th.]

LORD KITCHENER has sent the following despatch to the Secretary of State for War :—

Pretoria, Tuesday, February 25th.—Colonel Byng reports 600 Boers from south, driving heard of cattle before them, attempted to rush right of his outpost line on the night of 23rd February, due south of Bothasberg, where he joined Rimington's left. Certain number got through, having abandoned everything. New Zealanders behaving with great gallantry. Boers left fifteen dead and six wounded in immediate vicinity. Awaiting further report as to casualties, etc. [Bothasberg is north of the Delagoa Bay Railway line, in the Eastern Transvaal, and lies to the north-east of Middelburg. It was in this neighbourhood that Colonel Park and the National Scouts recently captured 164 Boers.]

THE CAPTURE OF A CONVOY.

The following telegram from Lord Kitchener to the Secretary of State for War, was issued on Wednesday :—

Residency, Pretoria, February 24 (received February 26).—Empty convoy from Von Donop's column at Wolmaranstad was attacked about ten miles south-west of Klerksdorp, and after severe fighting was captured. The escort consisted of 5th Battalion Imperial Yeomanry, three companies Northumberland Fusiliers, and two guns. No details received. Boers evidently came from considerable distance and are being pursued. [It will be noticed the above message was received at the War Office on Wednesday, and is dated Pretoria Residency, February 24, but the date is queried.] The Press Association states that the 5th Battalion Imperial Yeomanry mentioned in Lord Kitchener's despatch is made up of the 13th (Shropshire), 14th and 15th (Northumberland), and 16th (Worcester) Companies. Klerksdorp is about 120 miles south-west of Pretoria, and is on the line of blockhouses. To the west of Klerksdorp is a large district described as one of the areas of main resistance.

SUCCESS BY THE NATIONAL SCOUTS.

The War Office on Saturday issued the following despatch from Lord Kitchener to the Secretary of State for War :—

Pretoria, Friday, February 21, 4 p. m.—Colonel Park with mounted troops and 300 National Scouts, surprised Boer force at Nooitgedacht on centre of Bothasberg, capturing 164 prisoners, 72 horses, 107 rifles, 1,200 rounds ammunition, and all the waggons mules, etc. Captures include Field-Cornet Datoit' G. Joubert, and H. Dejager also Lieutenant T. Viljoen. No casualities on our side.

ANOTHER SWEEPING MOVEMENT.

Lord Kitchener sends the following despatch from Pretoria under Monday's date,—General Stephenson's column operating Fraserburg district have broken up Boer commandos driving one portyof 200 under Malan eastwards across railway. Wormald is following. Two hundred under Smith headed for Carnarvon and third party remain south-west of Carnarvon. In fighting Judge Hugo severely wounded since dead—Vanhurden rebel, wounded, prisoners. Colonel Sitwell's column has been engaged near Boshof, where Boers pushed out by blockhouse line have assembled. Colonel Barker's columns have been engaged operating round Reitz. General Elliott's division is holding line of Wilge River, with Colonel Barker's columns in support, while other columns now on line Strydpoort to Botha's Pass work south to Herrismith. Some Boers are in front. [Lord Kitchener's announcement of the disposition of General Elliott's Division and of the other columns mentioned in connection with it indicates the beginning of another wide sweeping movement in the north-east of the Orange River Colony, this time in the eastern half of the district enclosed by blockhouse lines. The line held by the advancing columns—from Strydpoort on the Wilge River to Botha's Pass in the Drakensberg—is sixty-five miles long.]

HARRYING DE WET.

A Heilbron telegram says that various British columns are now operating in the blockhouse area formed by Heilbron, Kroonstad, Harrismith, and Vrede, the district which has hitherto been De Wet's stronghold. The daily effect of the operations is large captures of stock. The enemy cannot withstand the screws any much longer, and it is reported that De Wet contemplates shifting to fresh ground. The special correspondent of the "Standard" at Pretoria says—De Wet, with 400 followers, broke back northward through the blockhouse line on the night of the 10th. At a point ten miles to the west of Lindley a few of his men very quietly cut the wire entanglements, and so cleared the way for the rest of the commando. The adjacent blockhouses opened fire, killing two Boers and wounding nine; but the remainder of the band, with De Wet, got clear off to the north, and are now back again on their old ground near Reitz.

The Boers in the triangle formed by the Cape and Natal Railways have been driven north on the Vaal, and are now being pushed towards Vrede. Several attempts by small parties to break through the Natal line eastward have been frustrated. Numbers of the enemy continue to surrender along the Delagoa line. Roughly speaking, the Transvaalers show a disposition to give in, while the FreeStaters are more irreconcilable. Ex-President Steyn is reported to be in the Reitz district, but not with De Wet, Mr. Steyn has been busy lately, trying to establish a system of communication with the Transvaal.

SCHALK BURGER'S NARROW ESCAPE.

COLONEL PARK'S SUCCESS.

Some details are published of Colonel Park's success in rounding up three laagers on the Bothasberg, north of Middleburg, after a night march carried out over exceedingly difficult country, whereby 164 Boers were captured. The small column, which consisted of mounted troops and 300 National Scouts, broke in on the enemy from the south-east corner of the range and surprised laager after laager at dawn on Friday. Mr. Schalk Burger and his colleagues in the so-called "Government," together with Jack Hindon, the notorious train-wrecker, had very narrow escapes from capture. Among the prisoners are several Field Cornets and other officers, and the Rev. Mr. Burger, of Middelburg.

HANS GROBELAAR'S LAAGER SURPRISED.

Colonel Mackenzie's column operating near Lake Chrissie, surprised Hans Grobelaar's small laager on Sunday night, capturing Field-Cornet Stephanus Grobelaar, Corporal Vander Merwe, Schalk Meyer, and four others. Hans Grobelaar and Thys Grobelaar and six others escaped in the dark. This capture, though small is important (says the "Times" correspondent), as both Grobelaar and Meyer are influential men, and have done much to encourage the Boers in the Ermelo district.

MORE CHARGES AGAINST THE BOERS.

Mr. Edgar Wallace, in a message to the "Daily Mail," dated Heilbron, Wednesday, January 29, says:—There can be little doubt that the murdering of British prisoners by the Boers is becoming more frequent than ever. At Colonel Wilson's fight last Sunday near Frankfort there were three cases of attempted murder, concerning which sworn evidence has been taken. All the cases were similar. The Boers covered their prisoners with rifles and ordered them to hand over their arms and valuables. Upon the men disarming, and with their hands still above their heads, they were deliberately shot, luckily, none them fatally. There were other authentic cases, upon which evidence will be sworn, of some of the prisoners being brutally murdered, one man having his skull smashed in. It is a relief to learn that the commandants, the field-cornets, and other responsible officers invariably treat the wounded and prisoners with the greatest kindness, and De Wet has been a perfect sportsman in the way he has looked after our Wounded and attended to their needs. The women who are on the farms in the back country, or who accompany the main commandos, are very bitter, and urge the men on to acts of villainy, and a prisoner taken recently by the Boers said that as he passed a farm some women came out and shouted to the men in Dutch, "Cut their throats—don't take them prisoners."

TOMMY ATKINS AND THE BOERS.

A long and interesting letter, surveying the general position of the British troops in the field, comes from Reuter's correspondent with Rawlinson's column. It is dated "Tafelkop, Orange River Colony, 25th January." In it the writer says :—

COMMUNICATION BY HELIOGRAPH.

To our south there runs the blockhouse line from Heilbron to Frankfort and Vrede and thence to Botha's Pass. Tafelkop is part of the line, and its most lofty point. From its summit the helio by day and the lamp by night can flash messages north to Standerton, south of Bethlehem, west to Frankfort, east to Vrede, covering a circle of nearly 300 miles in circonference.

Lord Kitchener has quietly dispossessed the Boers of these commanding heights, and placed British garrisons on them. So good is the system that a British column, however far it wanders, is scarcely ever out of communication with the garrisons, and therefore headquarters.

There is a second line of blockhouses running from Kroonstad to Lindley, Bethlehem, and ending at Harrismith. This and the northern line completely shut in De Wet and his forces. By this I do not mean for a moment to give the impression that the Boer leader himself cannot break through north or south, but the blockhouse line effectively stops any crossing of big forces. Its chief use, however, is that it affords a magnificent barrier against which to drive a Boer commando. Provided it is daylight a commando thus pressed is bound to suffer heavily, even to practical annihilation, unless it surrenders. A purpose is thus given to what were formerly very often but aimless marches on the part of our columns, and the blockhouses provide a safe route for convoys, enabling the establishment of advance depots.

FLORILINE !—FOR THE TEETH AND BREATH.—A few drops of the liquid "Floriline" sprinkled on a wet tooth brush produces a pleasant lather, which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly-whiteness, and a delightful fragrance to the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline" being composed in parts of Honey and sweet herbs, is delicious to the taste, and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Of all Chemists and Perfumers. SAVE YOUR SKIN
To preserve, purify, and beautify the skin, and prevent pimples, blotches, blackheads, redness, roughness, yellow, oily, mothy skin, chapping, and many other forms of skin blemishes, no other skin or complexion soap is for a moment to be compared with CUTICURA SOAP, because no other soap reaches the cause, viz., the clogged, irritated, or inflamed condition of the PORES

SAVE YOUR HAIR
How to Prevent Falling Hair Scalp Humours and Dandruff.
Cleanse the scalp and hair thoroughly with a warm shampoo of CUTICURA SOAP, rinse with warm water, dry carefully, and apply a light dressing of CUTICURA, purest of emollients, gently rubbed into the scalp. This simple, refreshing, and inexpensive treatment will clear the scalp and hair of crusts, scales, and dandruff, soothe irritated, itching surfaces, stimulate the hair follicles, supply the roots with energy and nourishment, and make the hair grow upon a sweet, wholesome, and healthy scalp, when all else fails.

SAVE YOUR HANDS
How to Make the Hands Soft and White in a Single Night.
Bathe and soak the hands on retiring in a strong, hot lather of CUTICURA SOAP. Dry thoroughly and anoint freely with CUTICURA Ointment, the great skin cure and purest of emollients. Wear during the night old, loose kid gloves with the finger ends cut off. For red, rough, chapped hands, dry, fissured, itching, feverish palms, shapeless nails, with painful finger ends, this one night treatment is simply wonderful and a blessing to all afflicted with sore, chapped, rough, or tender hands.

Cuticura The Set Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humour, Consisting of CUTICURA SOAP, to cleanse the skin of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle, CUTICURA Ointment, to instantly allay itching, inflammation, and irritation, and soothe and heal, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, to cool and cleanse the blood. A SINGLE SET is often sufficient to cure the most torturing, disfiguring, and humiliating skin, scalp, and blood humours, with loss of hair, when all else fails. Sold throughout the world. Aust. GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

LONDON, FEB. 20.

Lord Kimberley, who is lying seriously ill is one of the two Peers who link our politics to-day with the historic past in which Palmerston and Lord John Russell moved. Lord Ripon was Under-Secretary for War, and Lord Kimberley Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, just after the nineteenth century had turned down hill, and there are not two other men in politics—perhaps not one other man in the front rank of public life—who can claim such a record in statesmanship. In a free moment Lord Kimberley confided to his fellow peers the secret that on one occasion he had been strongly opposed to the Queen on an important subject, and that the Queen had reluctantly given way. "She warned me," said the earl, "that I should lament the consequences," and after the Queen's death Lord Kimberley was honest enough to confess that time had proved that the Queen was right.

Lord Kimberley is the only survivor of Mr. Gladstone who sat in all the Gladstone Cabinets. No leader ever had a more loyal adherent than Mr. Gladstone had in the Earl. It was quite a mistake, Lord Kimberley has said, to imagine that Mr. Gladstone was dictatorial to his colleagues, and that he lost his temper. Lord Kimberley was thinking, probably, when he said that, of the first time he sat in a Cabinet. It was the first Gladstone Administration, and at the first Cabinet Council, Lord Kimberley felt it his duty to protest against something with such emphasis that he feared Mr. Gladstone would be offended. The two met in the evening at dinner, and, lest the Prime Minister should think him an impertinent young man, Lord Kimberley explained his conduct at the Cabinet Council and half apologised for his daring. But Mr. Gladstone would not listen to him. It was the very thing that was wanted, he said, at a Cabinet Council.

The time came when Lord Kimberley knew more of Cabinet Councils than he did then. He was a member of a Cabinet of which every member but three—or four—threatened to resign, and at one of the meetings of which Mr. Gladstone impatiently exclaimed: "We seem to begoing off at half-cock." It is hardly necessary to say that Lord Kimberley was one of the three or four who did not threaten to desert their chief. Somebody, it is said, once asked Lord Kimberley, "What sort of a Cabinet Minister Bright made," and the answer is worth remembering as giving us a glimpse of a Quaker behind the scenes of politics. "Firstrate," said Lord Kimberley; "he always gave us exactly what we wanted—namely, the view which would be taken of the matter under discussion by the Radical Party as then constituted. He was very shrewd, very concise, and never made difficulties of any kind."

Lord Kimberley's services to the country have not been always under the eyes of the man in the street. He has been on more than one important mission to various Courts in Europe, and he argued with the Kaiser's famous grandfather, before the Kaiser could pronounce his name, on the terrible calamities that would follow such a thing as a war between Prussia and Denmark. "I know it all," said King William, much agitated—"I know it all; but if I were to draw back now there would be a revolution in these streets—a revolution in these streets!" Again and again the King repeated the words, pointing out of the window as he spoke, and the incident must have impressed Lord Kimberley with a vivid sense of the terrible responsibility of kingship.

It was when starting on one of these missions—his mission to Russia after the Crimean War—that Lord Kimberley had a curious experience with his dog. The animal disappeared somewhere between London and Dover, but found its way back again to Kimberley House in Norfolk without the slightest help. The mention of dogs brings to mind the unfamiliar aspect of Lord Kimbrley as a country gentleman, and one inevitably thinks of the story of the old servant whom Lord Kimbereley had pensioned. The pensioner had been refused out-relief on the ground that he was already adequately provided for, and on mentioning the matter to Lord Kimberley, who told him that the action of the Guardians was quite fair, the old man offered to resign his pension to go into the workhouse, remarking: "I won't see your lordship done over this I"

One remembers, in thinking of Kimberley stories, that this is the birthday of that inimitable story-teller, Sir M. E. Grant Duff, whose friendship with Lord Kimberley has covered many years. The two were sitting at dinner next to a peer, who entertained them with a story which Lord Kimberley has more than once told since. An Englishman had been arrested as a spy by the French during the Franco-German War, and, in spite of his protestations, he was tried by court-martial and sentenced to death. On the way to execution, as if suddenly remembering something the "spy" asked leave to go back and fetch something he had left behind. Such a thing, declared his guard, was impossible, but, the prisoner's importunity prevailing, he was allowed to go. "What is it you have left behind?" asked the guard, and the man on his way to his doom replied calmly: "I have left my umbrella." The soldiers, said the peer who told Lord Kimberley the story, were convinced that nobody but an Englishman could be such an idiot, and the man's umbrella saved his life.

Everybody will be grateful to the Queen if she will join the Duchess of Portland and place herself on the side of humane fashion. The cruel massacre of the poor little birds," is, indeed, appalling. It is a terrible indictment of the gentleness of English gentlewomen that the London fashions should demand the slaughter of millions of rare and beautiful birds. The demand for plumes, in spite of the growing feeling expressed in the letter from Miss Knollys, is said to have been greater than ever last year. In Venezuela alone two million birds were killed for fashion's sake, and one London dealer admitted twelve years ago, long before fashion was so pitiless as now, that he sold two million small birds every twelve months. Three recent consignments to London included 10,000 birds of paradise, nearly 800 packages of osprey feathers, 6,700 crested pigeons, 5,500 Impeyan pheasants, 500 bird skins, 270 cases of peacocks' feathers, 1,500 Argus pheasants, and 500 various other small birds.

The truth about the terrible demands of fashion should bring a blush to the cheek of every gentlewoman. Fifty thousand ounces of white egret feathers were sold at London auctions in a recent year, and, as six egrets must be slaughtered for an ounce of this feather, the number of birds killed must have been three hundred thousand—not to speak of the thousands of young birds which must have perished of hunger and neglect. It is well-known—though hardly well enough, perhaps—that the egret can only be shot at its breeding place, when it is building its nest or rearing its young, and the slaughter of every mother egret means inevitably the killing of two more. "I have watched day by day," says one who has seen gulls in breeding time, a "flotilla of boats procuring plumes for the market—one gang of men shooting and changing the guns when too hot; another set picking up the birds and often cutting their wings off and flinging their victims into the sea to struggle with feet and head until death slowly came to their relief." But what matter, after all, if a woman's hat be trimmed as fashion dictates?

The Prince of Wales has assured the people of Chester that he is proud to bear the title of Earl of Chester—a title by which the Heir-Apparent will be sure to be addressed when he pays his next visit to the town on the Dee. We may be sure, too, that when that time comes the Mayor of Chester will not forget to recall the odd story of the last succession to the title. It was at the birth of King Edward. The King was not born Prince of Wales. He had to wait for that title. One or two titles came to hand automatically, and one of them was that of the Earldom of Chester, and the birth of King Edward gave rise to an odd incident in the ancient city. The mayor claimed a baronetcy, and, as the birth took place on mayor's day, and as the chief magistrates changed office almost at the very hour in which the Earl of Chester was born, it was not an easy matter to award the title.

Lord Rosebery is not always anxious for definite separation. One recalls a day when he was anxious for anything but separation from a political friend with whom he was to travel by rail. The friend was not on the platform when the ex-Premier arrived, and Lord Rosebery begged the station-master to delay the train for a few minutes. He seemed likely to delay in vain, however; not even for Lord Rosebery could the train be stopped. Lord Rosebery had his own way out of the difficulty. Jumping off the platform he seated himself in front of the engine, between the rails, and signalled to the guard to "drive on." The train waited, the friend arrived, and Lord Rosebery had the pleasure of a "definite companionship" on his journey.

NOTICES.

Soft, silky, glossy, abundant, beautiful, elegant, splendid, handsome—you can't find words to describe a magnificent head of hair. Is this the kind of hair you have? Is your hair long enough to suit you? Does the color exactly please you? In a word, are you perfectly satisfied with your hair? If not, give it a good hair-food. Give it

Ayer's Hair Vigor

'Twill make you have long, rich, abundant hair, and it will stop falling of the hair, too. Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color. You can depend upon it every time. It brings back all the rich, dark color you had when you were young. If you are 30, there is no need of looking as if you were 50 just because your hair is gray.

And you will like our Hair Vigor, also, as a hair dressing; while it forms a valuable addition to any toilet table because of the elegant way in which it is put up.

YOU MUST STOP COUGHING.

A cough or a cold is a danger signal. It says "Look Out." It is the beginning of the path which leads to pneumonia or worse—consumption. Little's Oriental Balm goes right to the seat of the inflammation which it soothes and heals. The tickling in the throat ceases, the spasm weakens, the cough disappears. It cures when nothing else will. There is no experiment about it. It is a certainty.

Mr. N. Love, of James Street, Blackburn, says: "I was worn out almost to the grave with a terrible cough that all the remedies and doctors failed to relieve. It was cured with one box of Little's Oriental Balm. It shall be my doctor through life." Sold at 1s. 6d. per box. Of all chemists.

UNEQUAL VISION.

ABOUT eighty persons out of each Hundred have some difference of Focus between the two eyes and yet the majority are content to wear Spectacles made with both lenses alike; the result is continual straining and impairment of the Vision. For the Eyes to be used healthily, each Eye should be suited separately. This method is always practised by T. S. Bennett & Co., Ophthalmic Opticians, Medows Street, Bombay, (see their Pamphlet, "Defects of Sight"), where they may be consulted personally, or by letter, Free of Charge, respecting Spectacles for all forms of defective Vision.

FOR THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE.

Clarke's Blood Mixture

THE WORLD-FAMED BLOOD PURIFIER AND RESTORER.

IS WARRANTED TO CLEAR THE BLOOD from all impurities from whatever cause arising. For Scrofula, Scurvy, Eczema, Skin and Blood Diseases, Blackheads, Pimples, and Sores of all kinds, it is a never-failing and permanent Cure. It Cures Old Sores.
Cures Sores on the Neck.
Cures Sore Legs.
Cures Blackhead or Pimples on the Face.
Cures Scurvy.
Cures Ulcers.
Cures Blood and Skin Diseases.
Cures Glandular Swellings.
Clears the Blood from all impure Matter, from whatever cause arising.
It is a real specific for Gout and Rheumatic pains, it removes the cause from the Blood and Bones.

As this Mixture is pleasant to the taste, and warranted free from anything injurious to the most delicate constitution of either sex, the Proprietors solicit sufferers to give it a trial to test its value.

Colour-Sergeant Instructor Jno. Howarth Cheshire Regiment, Chester, writes:—"I suffered from Rheumatism in my arms and legs for over five years. I also had a bruised shin bone, through which I could rest only for a few minutes at a time. All sorts of remedies were applied, but none did any good for more than a few days. After a while I was recommended to try 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' which I did, and on taking the first bottle I felt relief. I therefore continued with this excellent medicine, and it effected a perfect cure. This was more than a year ago, and I am pleased to say I have not felt the least pain since—in fact, I am in as good health as ever I was in my life.

"Moreover, I told two friends of mine who were laid up with Rheumatism of my case, and they tried 'Clarke's Blood Mixture.' They are tailors by trade, and in seven days they were at work again. They say this medicine cannot be too highly praised.

"31st May 18, 1898."

Mr George Price, St. Margaret's-on-Thames, writes:—"I feel that I should write you a few lines in praise of Clarke's Blood Mixture. I have been suffering these last few years with Eczema and Blotches, which prevented me following my occupation, and I can safely say I have spent scores of pounds in all sorts of other medicines. A little while ago, however, I was advised by a friend of mine who has taken Clarke's Blood Mixture to try a bottle, and to my great relief I am a new man and able at the present time to go on with my business, being now quite well. In fact, I cannot give it too much praise. You are at liberty to make what use you like of this testimonial for the benefit of others who may be suffering from the same complaint.

"December 29, 1899."

THOUSANDS OF TESTIMONIALS OF WONDERFUL CURES FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Clarke's Blood Mixture is sold in Bottles at 2s. 9d. each, and in Quarts, containing six times the quantity, 11s.—sufficient to effect a permanent cure in the great majority of long-standing cases.—BY ALL CHEMISTS and PATENT MEDICINE VENDORS throughout the world. GENUINE EGYPTIAN CIGARETTES.

BECAUSE they are manufactured at CAIRO (EGYPT) and represent all that can be put into a CIGARETTE to make it a thoroughly satisfactory and delightful smoke!

Any number of Cigarette makers have exerted their might and money to displace Vafiadis Cigarettes from the great affections of the High Class Traders of India, the United Kingdom, the Continent, and the Far East, and their other constituents throughout the Globe, such as Clubs Messes, Fashionable Hotels, Leading Stores, and Tobacconists, but

NO CIGARETTE HAS SUCCEEDED.

On the contrary, the SALE of their OWN CIGARETTES has been continually on the increase—for it does not confine itself to being patronised only by old friends, but is always sought for and holds new ones on its onward march.

HOW TO FURNISH SMARTLY WITHOUT DISTURBING CAPITAL.

IT is possible that many Officers and Indian Civilians are not aware of MESSRS. NORMAN & STACEY'S Entire Revolution in Furnishing. This well-known Firm has introduced a system of Insurance in their business, of which

MR. LABOUCHERE writes in "TRUTH":

"NORMAN & STACEY have introduced in their business an ingenious safeguard against the risk of loss to his widow or family through the death of the hirer. They give an insurance upon his life, so that if, for instance, a man gets £200 worth of furniture on the hire-purchase system, and dies when instalments to the amount of £190 have been paid, not only does the furniture become the property of his representatives, but the £190 is also repaid to them."

A VOICE FROM THE JUNGLES!!

CAMP ANAS, PANCH MAHALS, 17-2-02.

DEAR SIR,—

YOU will see from the above address that I am encamped right away in the Jungles. Before coming here, I purchased a bottle of BATLIWALLA'S AGUE MIXTURE. I can honestly say that I did not know its worth, till I tried it on a man here suffering from persistent malarial fever, and I can conscientiously say that with one bottle, the fever ceased, and so far has not returned. I had been giving the man QUININE for days together, but still the fever kept on, but on taking one bottle only of your mixture, he has not had a return of the fever.

Yours faithfully,

(Sd.) HENRY H. SPOONER,
In charge Opium Police, Anas.

MELLIN'S FOOD

For INFANTS and INVALIDS.

MELLIN'S FOOD is prepared from wheat and malted barley by machinery, is therefore purely vegetable, and during its preparation is untouched by hand.

MELLIN'S FOOD is a soluble dry extract, entirely free from starch and cane-sugar; the starch of the wheat having been transformed into dextrin and maltose by malt diastase. When added to diluted cow's milk it produces a complete and perfect diet.

MELLIN'S FOOD supplies materials by which diluted cow's milk is converted into an ideal food for Infants and Invalids; and IT ASSURES THE DIGESTION OF THE MILK BY THE INFANT. The character of cow's milk is so changed by the addition of Mellin's Food that the preparation is adapted for use from birth. By the use of Mellin's Food, and the exercise of proper care, those diseases which make such frightful havoc among infants in India and the East generally, such as diarrhœa, convulsions, the various wasting diseases, have been largely decreased.

LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL

THE PUREST. THE MOST PALATABLE. THE MOST DIGESTIBL THE MOST EFFICACIOUS.

Incontestably proved by Forty Years' Medical Experience to be The only Cod Liver Oil which produces the full curative effects in CONSUMPTION AND DISEASES OF THE CHEST, THROAT AFFECTIONS, GENERAL DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE SKIN, WASTING DISEASES OF CHILDREN, RICKETS, AND ALL SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

SIR G. DUNCAN GIBB, Bart., M.D.,
Physician to the Westminster Hospital.

"The value of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL as a therapeutic agent in a number of diseases, chiefly of an exhaustive character, has been admitted by the world of medicine; but, in addition, I have found it a remedy of great power in the treatment of many Affections of the Throat and Larynx, especially in Consumption of the latter, where it will sustain life when everything else fails."

DR. SINCLAIR COGHILL,
Physician to the Royal National Hospital for Consumption, Ventnor.

"I have convinced myself that in Tubercular and the various forms of Strumous Disease, DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL possesses greater therapeutic efficacy than any other Cod Liver Oil with which I am acquainted. It was especially noted in a large number of cases in which the patients protested they had never been able to retain or digest other Cod Liver Oil, that DR. DE JONGH'S OIL was not only tolerated, but taken readily, and with marked benefit."

JOSEPH J. POPE, Esq., M.R.C.S.,
Late Staff Surgeon, Army, Professor of Hygiene, Birkbeck Institution, London.

"I found during my Indian experience that the worth and character of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL remained unchanged by tropical heat or foreign climate, and it was, from its uniformity of character, particularly adapted for long-continued administration. The value of 'hydro-carbons' in all debilitated states of the system is now becoming thoroughly recognized; and it is, without doubt, from the animal oils and fats, rather than from their vegetable substitutes, that we may hope to derive the surest benefit. The Oil of DR. DE JONGH places in everyone's reach a reliable and valuable remedy, one that cannot be too widely recognized."

DR. R. O. CROFT,
Author of "Handbook for the Nursery."

"DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is almost a specific in many of the Diseases peculiar to Infancy and Childhood, and I have seen marked benefit produced by its use. Patients prefer it to the Pale Oils, and are able to retain it more comfortably."
